

How to learn Arabic using your native language and Google Translate

Written by.

Sami Al , Mahmadi

The generation in this time is lucky, in the past the means used to learn Arabic were few, relying on dictionary, paper newspapers and study materials was so slow and difficult that most people were alienated and hated learning the language

Now in the age of the Internet there are many ways to learn, including Google Translate.

I will teach you Arabic until you celebrate it using Sami Al-Mahmadi's method of learning Arabic using Google Translate and in the following details I will explain the way

What do you know about your mother tongue?

It was your mother tongue that you nursed as a child and learned it from your parents.

Is your native language official English or slang?

Sure, your mother tongue is colloquial, not official, which is the language of books and journalism.

Why?

Mother tongue is the language of your thinking you use language to conduct thought processes in your mind in other words you pour your mind into language templates which are words and sentences and expression terms and structural methods such as saying question and wonder and demand and simple phrase

So language is a pot of thought.

My way of learning is to use the mother tongue to get to the second language, the second language cannot replace the mother tongue in your mind, your mind will become translated from the mother tongue to the second language because your thinking is based on the mother tongue, which is the language of your thinking

In order to learn any language in the world you have to think about there are two stages that the language goes through first gained by listening and reading and secondly produced by speaking and by writing these are the skills of any reading language that speaks writing so you learn English you must think about it in other words become a second language of thinking for you but the dominant and dominant is the mother language which is the colloquial English that I learned from your father and official English that I learned in school, books and journalism, so when you come to think about using sentences and phrases of colury, but when you write a letter or a topic, you use theofficial

Sami Al-Mahmadi's way of learning using Google Translate is as follows:

1. Buy a university book with 200 papers one notebook at the beginning to learn the way so if you master the method buy more and more books
2. We will start from the mother tongue which is English to reach the second language, I mean from English toArabic
3. Write the English words every word on the right side each after two lines of word and leave the left side empty for arabic language words
4. You must choose your words from your environment and surroundings learn within the limits of your environment and surroundings if your environment is your home, neighbors, school and playground, you know within its limits words must come from your surroundings if the sea or travel or trade is not your surroundings so do not choose words from them because it is simply not your surroundings, the mother language formed from your surroundings only this does not mean narrowing the horizons of thought but to get used to your mind to build speech compositions by interacting with your surroundings so your words will turn around your surroundings And after mastering the language of thinking about your surroundings, expand the circle little by little, but the beginning is words that come from your surroundings.
5. Divide your words into words of movements and words of silence i mean what are the movements around you and what actions that do not have movement like actions of feeling never felt movements and then go to the silent

6. Record the word that comes to your mind do not arrange any word of movement that comes to mind write it on the right side fill the book with words remember Google Translate does not deal except with the official language which is the language of media, books and newspapers

7. To know the meaning of the word in Arabic open the site of Google Translate and type the English word and on the left side the translation will appear

8. Example: رقص word translated by dance write it in the notebook on the left side next to the Arabic word and to know the pronunciation press the pronunciation icon and pronounce it like it

9. If there are many Arabic words, look at the context in which the word camel is used, such as camel, arabic words such as جمـل- جـمـل- جـمـل- sentences will appear, each of which is used in its own context, the word جمـل means the animal of camels and the word جـمـل, and means the collection of sentences and the word جـمـل and means And make it beautiful and so on.

10. record the whole front page and do not jump to the second page until after the mental link between the English word and the Arabic word

11. See the words and repetition teaches the smarts to see for three days the same page and then put the book aside for five days and you are away from the book after five days open the front page and see just focus your attention on the English words without looking at the Arabic word if you remember all the words very quickly the mental link happened and you have to review from time to time it must be reviewed because it is the most important but if you do not remember or remember only the word or remember its shape but forget to pronounce it, then it is necessary to review be sincere with yourself, faithful to it, if you do not remember very quickly, return for three days in a row and then stop and stay away for five days and so do in all pages remember do not jump from page to page to ensure that there was a mental connection believe me you will not forget and some words have a musical tone and pleasure in its pronunciation helps you remember and save

11. Learning movements and silences learn names and qualities learn prepositions and adverbs and conditions and then learn numbers and history this is the language if you learn it you will succeed in learning any language then the most important thing words and phrases and sentences are from the reality of your environment and surroundings

12. You won't need a dictionary or buy dictionaries just your mother tongue and Google Translate